Project venue: Sassari

The venue of the project is Sassari, an Italian city located in the north west region of Sardinia. Sassari is the second-largest of Sardinia in terms of population and one of the oldest cities in the island with a large economy based on tourism and the services industry.

Although findings have dated settlements in Sassari to the Neolithic age, the main settling of the city occurred during the Middle Ages. As time progressed, Sassari developed and grew in size and now stands as the main city in the northern region of the island.

As a tourist destination, Sassari has a great deal of historical buildings and monuments. The city is rich in art, culture and history, and it is well known for its palazzi, the Fountain of the Rosello, and its elegant neoclassical architecture, such as Piazza d'Italia (Italy Square) and the Teatro Civico (Civic Theatre).

Sassari also benefits from a great location and is an ideal point of departure for those who want to explore northern Sardinia. From this city, you can visit the coastal regions, find stunning beaches and see beautiful coastal towns.

- Training young people with fewer opportunities and NEETs in order to make them competitive and adequate to the current labour market;
- Strengthen the training offer of the partners belonging to the Consortium.

Specific objectives of the TC are:

- To provide youth workers with tools and methodologies necessary to analyze the causes and effects of the phenomenon of youth unemployment and to create strategies, with related objectives, to solve the problem;
- Provide youth workers with appropriate knowledge, skills, tools and methodologies to train young people with fewer opportunities and NEETs, in order for them to be able to approach the current labor market;

The final output of the TC will be the handbook "NFE Empowering The Approach to Labor Market", which aims to provide concrete tools to youth workers / educators and NGOs and which will contain within it, the researches carried out in the field by the participants before the mobility and the NFE tools created during the TC.

Weather

Sardinia boasts a beautifully warm Mediterranean climate with long, hot summers and coastal temperatures. The island is renowned for its 'six-month summer' which means that the sea can be warm enough for swimming from May until October.

 Spring	 Summer	 Autumn	 Winter

In the spring the temperature reaches 20 degrees and rainy days become more rare. The sea begins to heat up, the days get longer and nature has its best colours; this is the season of the first swims, of sun and sea, and the active holiday including trekking from the mountains to the sea and motorbike or cycling, sailing and surfing routes.	In summer the sun is high and it does not rain, temperatures exceed 30° C and the sea water is hot. During the day, you can enjoy the sea, beach, boating or diving. At night temperatures drop and the air is cooled by the sea breeze; then begins the al fresco dining, nightlife or romantic walks on the promenades.	Autumn arrives late in Sardinia; temperatures exceed 20° and the sea water maintains heat from the summer. The days get shorter but it does not rain and the sun is always high. On the coast it is still warm enough to swim, although in the evening the temperature is cooler. While waiting for the winter you can still enjoy the outdoors. This is the best time to discover the centre of Sardinia with a dip into its traditions and more ancient culture.	The winter is very short, the coldest months are January and February, but along the coast the temperature rarely drops below freezing and almost never snows. In the centre, temperatures drop a few degrees below zero at night and snow is concentrated in the mountains, rarely even whitening the roofs of mountain villages. This is the period of carnivals and the most traditional festivals of the island.
